

BUILDING OUR SUSTAINABLE FUTURE

SPRING CONFERENCE TO SAVE THE WORLD APRIL 30 - May 1, 2005 - TUCSON, ARIZONA

You're invited to join us on an important and exciting project to create a sustainable future. We propose the creation of a sustainable community think tank with the goal of starting a number of model towns where we will show the world that we can live free and in harmony with the earth. We will bring together people who are knowledgeable in every skill needed to build and maintain such a community. We are creating communities in several locations including Mexico and Slovakia. To start this project we will host a gathering of people from the fields of sustainable agriculture and energy, consensus decision making, passive solar building, water collection, culture, healthcare and education. Our communities will serve as examples and provide encouragement for people everywhere to pull away from the current path towards ecological collapse and totalitarian corporate domination.

The first conference to create a sustainable community think tank will be April 30th through May 1st in sunny Tucson, Arizona. Some areas of discussion includes obtaining the land, developing the process for decision making and the manner in which we will proceed to start these communities. We invite people with experience in every aspect of sustainable community development and maintenance to attend this founding conference. This project is larger than the wonderful communes that are already helping show a new way. Imagine entire towns built as replicable models to seed a sustainable future.
